

Creating a "Project" in Maya

Creating a Project allows you to save all data regarding a particular project in one place.

Do the following:

Open Maya

1. Click File, upper left corner.
2. Click Project Window
enter the name of your project click folder where you want to store project click Accept 3. Back to File, upper left corner.
click Set Project...

find the folder where you save your project, highlight folder, don't open folder once it's highlighted click set, at bottom of window.

now anything you save should be saved in your project...

your maya scene files, .mb or .ma will be in the scenes folder, any renders should be in the Images folder.

Hope this helps.
